PROBLEM STATEMENTS

SMCRE

PROBLEM #1

Channel: Tecovas fails in delivering appealing messages through communication channels to Gen Z.

PROBLEM #2

Message: Emphasizing on being affordable, therefore limiting style range.

PRIMARY RESEARCH OBJECTIVES

Research Objective #1	Research Objective #2
Investigating the motivations driving Gen Z consumers' decisions to purchase cowboy boots to craft more compelling communication messages.	To establish effective communication channels that resonate successfully with consumers from Generation Z.

RESEARCH METHODS

Fort Worth's Finest decided to conduct a Focus Group Interview as a measurement of qualitative data.

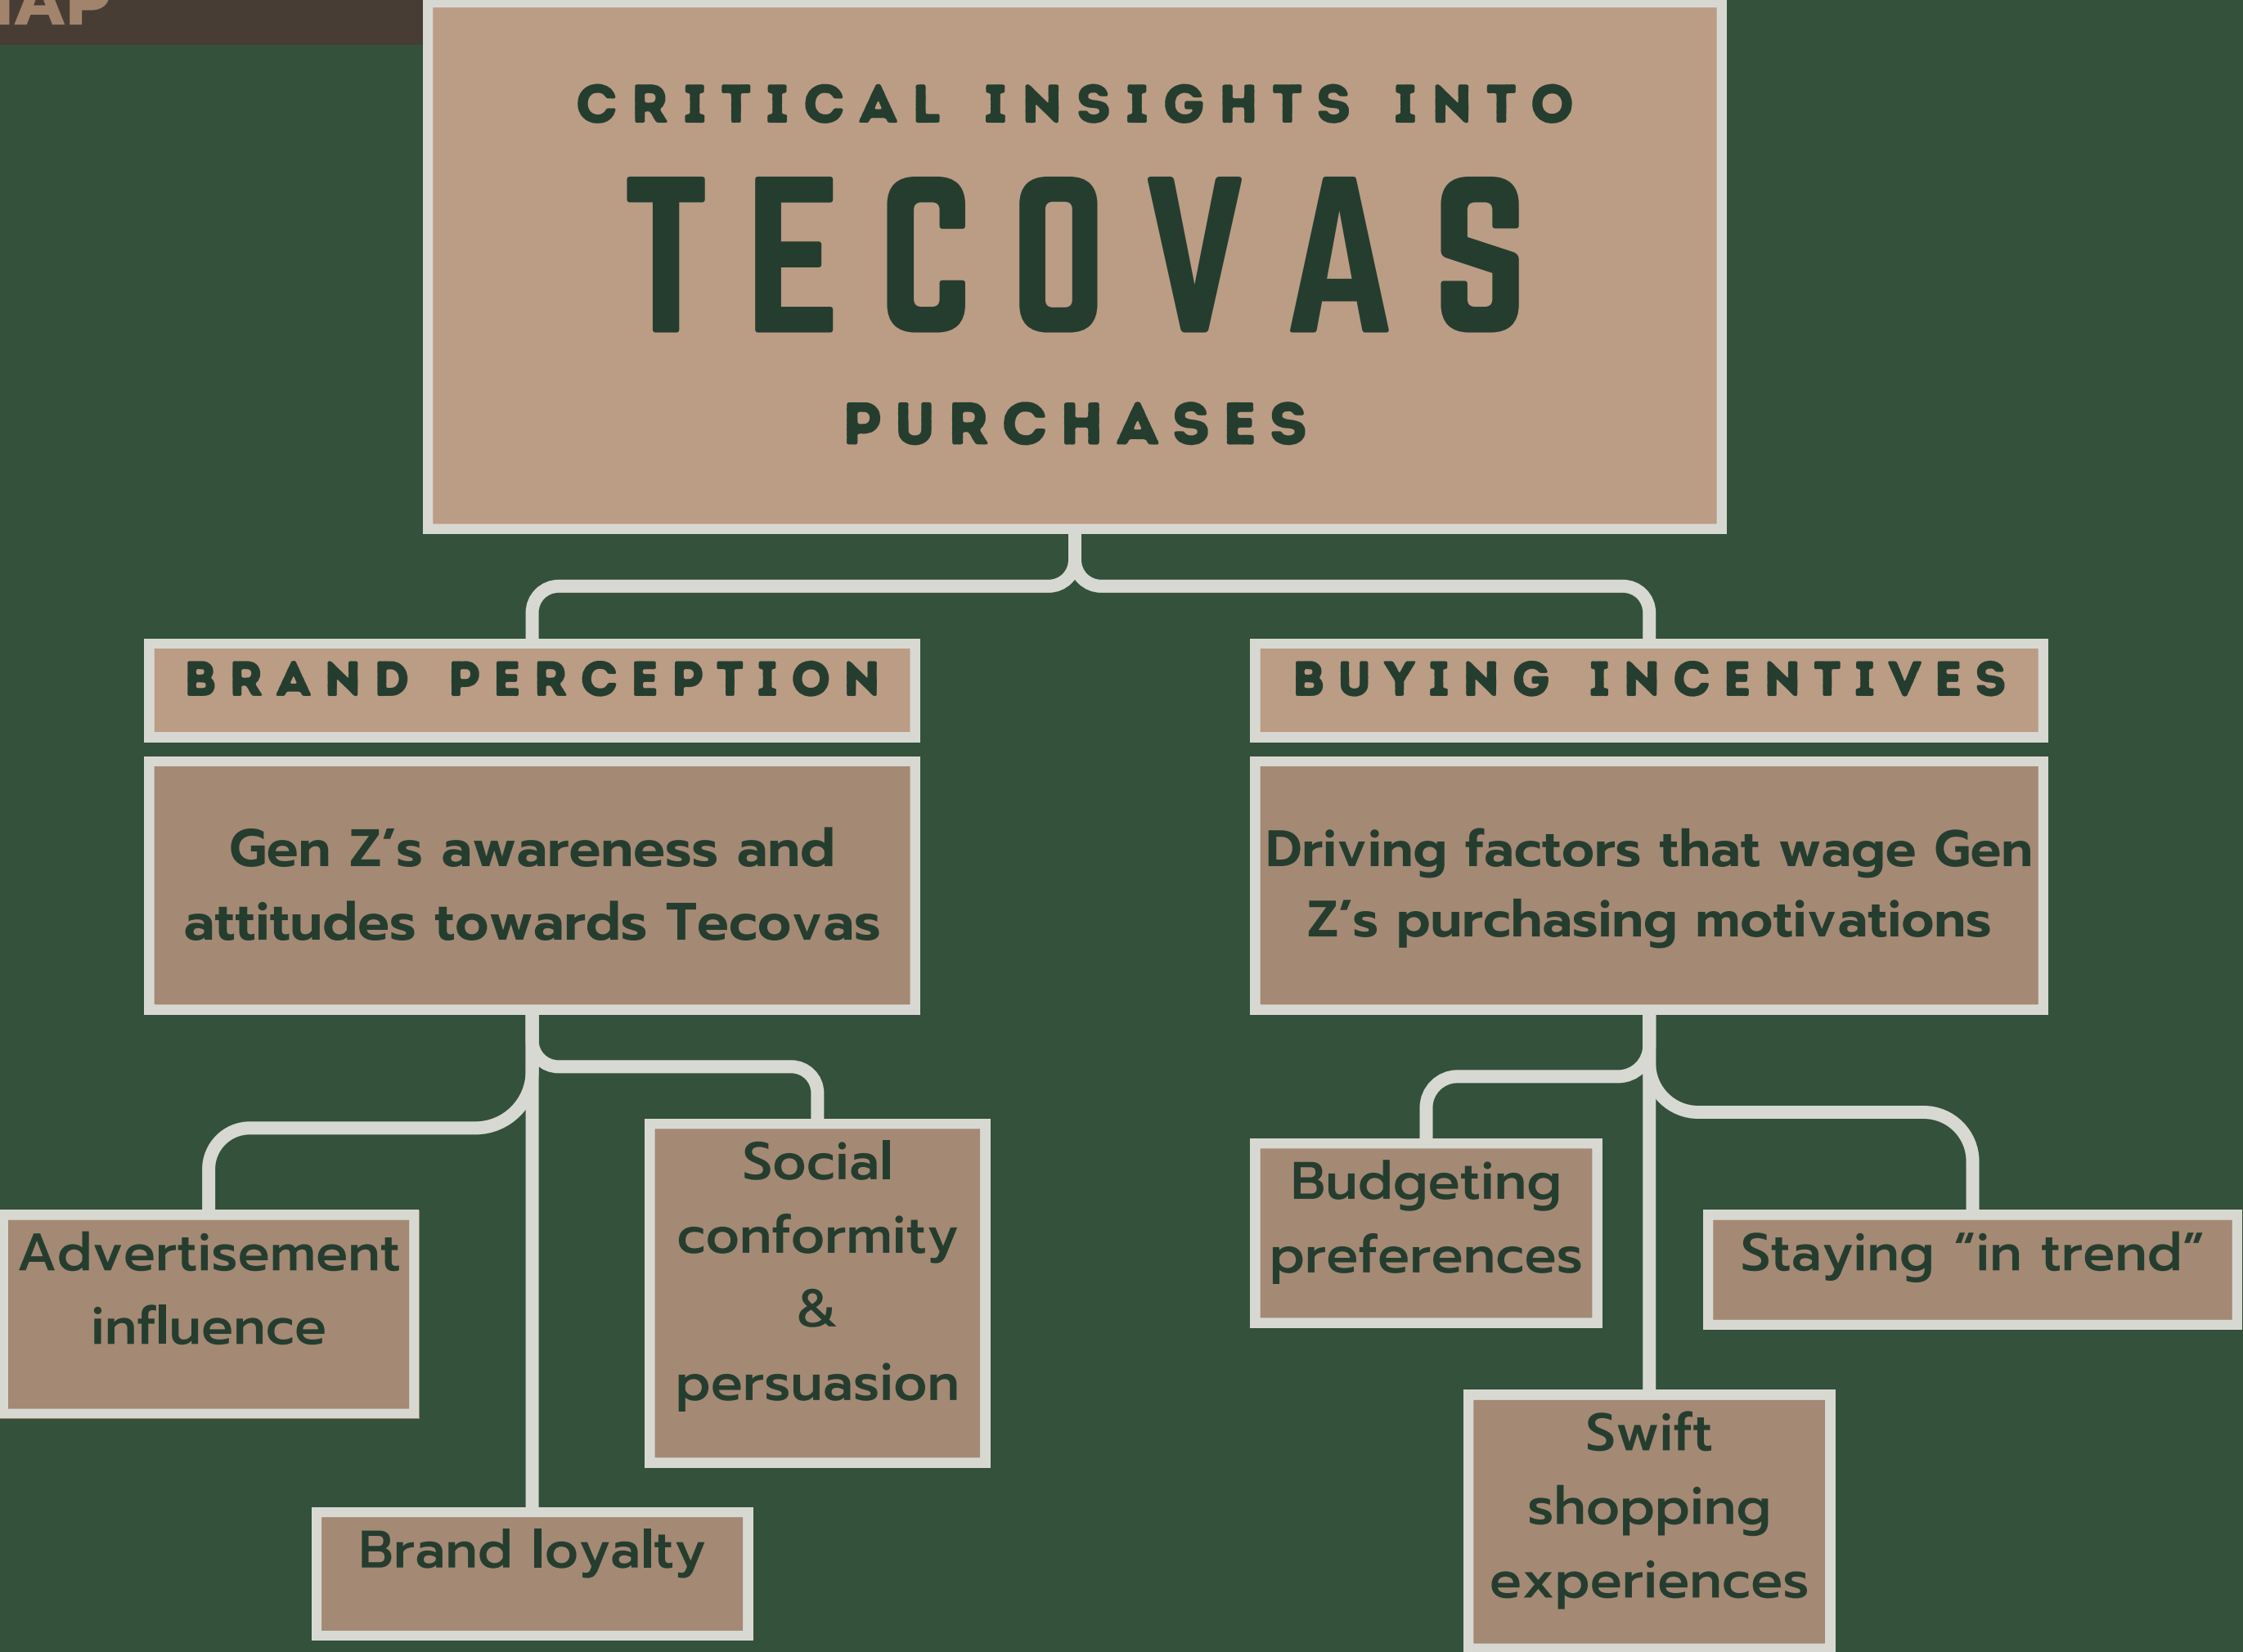

PROCEDURE

- 2:00 pm - 4:00 pm October 29th, 2023, Richards Hall Study Room 202
- 12 participants: 7 females, 5 males, all aged between 18-24

METHODS

- Uncovering the truths behind Gen Z's perception of social media advertisements.
- Analyzing differences in our selected individuals' responses due to their current stage of life/occupation.
- Determining how many of our participants think of the brand Tecovas when questioned about Cowboy Boots.

We gathered insights from individuals aged 18-24, both males and females, with varying levels of exposure and knowledge about cowboy boots. This was done through employing a purposive sampling method.

CONSUMER INSIGHTS & RECOMMENDATIONS

3 Ws

Q&A on Instagram Live

Aesthetically pleasing social media spread

RECOMMENDATIONS

RECOMMENDATION TWO

Create a “College Collection” collaboration with Universities nationwide, emphasizing affordability and school spirit. Sell them in campus bookstores. Do a tour to engage with college students and document the releases on social media.

Sending a “giant” version encourage a photo op.

RECOMMENDATIONS

RECOMMENDATION THREE

Collaborate with pop culture icons looked up to by Gen Z such as Paige Lorenze, Zach Bryan, and Morgan Wallen. This strategic alliance aims to help Tecovas join forces with these fan bases, and gain fresh ideas for colorways, fabrics, styles, etc. for boots.

LIMITATIONS & CONCLUSION

AMATEUR ANALYZATION OF DATA & LIMITED TIME FRAME:

- No previous experience with conducting research studies or analyzing qualitative data
- Forced to work under strict deadlines/time frames

LOCATION & RESPONSE GENERALIZABILITY:

- Context-specific findings- may not be generalizable to larger populations
- Participants had similar opinions
 - Emphasizd/bounced ideas off of each other in focus group setting

SAMPLING METHOD:

- Choice to use convenience sampling: more specifically non-probability sampling.
 - A large selection of our participants either previously or currently attending TCU. This specific geographic population was more fit to answer our research questions.

CONCLUSION

Extensive research revealed communication challenges hindering Tecovas' Gen Z outreach. Recommendations: boost social media with engaging content, broaden boot styles through university collaborations, and drive sales by partnering with pop culture icons.
